MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

LINDA MOOSE & SUSAN WHITE

Adams Abstract Associates, Inc.

What are your primary responsibilities?

It is our goal to let our customers know they are the most important people we deal with on a daily basis and it is our responsibility to make certain that their real estate transaction is a pleasant and stress-free event. The purchase or refinance of a home is the largest financial transaction most people will make in their lifetime and it can be a frightening and stress-ridden event. We let our customers know that we truly care about them and their well-being. It is our entire office's job to instill them with a comfortable and homey atmosphere, professional bearing, and friendly staff. We don't have to be stuffy to be efficient.

What motivates you to jump out of bed every morning?

We get out of bed every morning with the joy of being able to assist people obtain their life's dreams of owning a home; and joining our great community. Having lived here our entire lives we can truly welcome newcomers and connect with old timers with a heartfelt welcome.

As a business in Adams County, how do you give back to the local community?

We are also co-owners of Chapel-Ridge Farms (a family-owned natural beef farming operation located in Southern Adams County); and as such are deeply involved in the agricultural community in our beautiful area. We support the Farm Bureau, 4-H, Beef Producers and private farm preservation efforts in order to keep our community beautiful and healthy. We try to constantly remind folks that strong work ethics and moral ethics go hand-in-hand with an agricultural society along with the beautiful countryside that attracts so many people to our area.

When you're not working, where in Adams County do you like to spend your time?

When we're not working at Adams Abstract, we enjoy spending time on our farms. We love working with our cattle, horses and dogs. There is always plenty of work to do on a farm so we are never bored. Sue has a teenage daughter, Rhianna, who is a blessing and joy in our lives and keeps us looking forward to new horizons and opportunities.

BIZ BUZZ

Ms. White is also a graduate of Penn State University with a dual degree in Agriculture and Business. Both Ms. Moose and Ms. White are licensed Pennsylvania title insurance agents, members of the Pennsylvania Land Title Association and the American Land Title Association, plus other numerous business organizations and associations. Both also pursue continuing educational programs to keep pace with the changing world of real estate and business law.

SENATORS OFFER BIPARTISAN BILL TO FIX 'RETAIL GLITCH' IN GOP TAX LAW

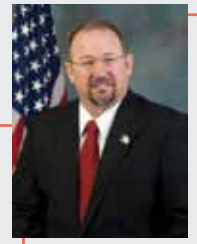

PA SENATOR PAT TOOMEY

Senators Pat Toomey (R-Pa.) and Doug Jones (D-Ala.) introduced legislation to fix a provision in President Trump's 2017 tax-cut law that has adversely affected the retail and restaurant industries. Before the law's enactment, retail stores and restaurants could write off the costs of their renovations over a span of 15 years. The authors of the 2017 tax legislation intended for the statute to allow businesses to write off the full costs of those renovations in the year they were made. But as a result of what's been called a drafting error, or the "retail glitch," stores and restaurants now have to write off the costs of renovations over the course of 39 years. The measure offered by Toomey and Jones would allow businesses to immediately deduct the full cost of renovations. The fix would apply retroactively, as if it had been included in the 2017 tax law, and the Joint Committee on Taxation has said the change would not have an impact on federal revenue. While the provision is a priority for a number of lawmakers and businesses, it's unclear whether the bill will make it to President Trump's desk. The House in December passed a year-end tax package, with a fix to the error, when Republicans controlled the chamber. That legislation wasn't taken up by the Senate before the end of the 115th Congress, meaning the bill expired. Many congressional Democrats have said they don't want to make technical corrections to Trump's tax law unless those changes include more substantive changes.

BUSINESSES, TAXPAYERS TO BENEFIT FROM "GOVERNMENT DONE RIGHT"

PA REPRESENTATIVE DAN MOUL

As state lawmakers strive toward greater government effectiveness and efficiency, we are concentrating on repealing out-of-date laws, reexamining the effectiveness of some state boards and commissions, and clearing the red tape and excessive regulation that threatens job creation and economic progress. We recently passed House Bill 762, which would require state agencies to designate a regulatory compliance officer to facilitate a better understanding of new and existing regulations and boost compliance rates among affected businesses. We also passed House Bill 509, which would boost transparency in the permitting process by requiring agencies to post information online and create an accessible tracking system for applicants to check the status of their applications. We are also looking at cleaning up antiquated language in the Public School Code and eliminating some outdated laws that restrict certain activities on Sundays.

ADAMS COUNTY BAR FOUNDATION DONATES TO MERCY HOUSE AND RECOVERY CENTER

COMMISSIONER MARTY QUALLY

I would like to express my thanks to the Adams County Bar Foundation for their generous gift of $11,500 towards the cost of the Mercy House and Recovery Center project on High Street. Over the past few months Adams County has been assessing various funding opportunities to assist with this project. In fund raising early money acts as yeast and literally help to raise the dough. The Bar Association's commitment to help Adams County residents through the substance abuse recovery process is commendable. Over the next few weeks Adams County will complete the permit process and will begin to advertise to get final construction estimates. Hopefully, we can complete this project by the end of the year and open the first substance abuse recovery center in Adams County by 2020.

We're not typical electric utility workers. We work for a local not-for-profit cooperative. The 32,000 member-owners in Adams, Cumberland, Franklin, Perry and York counties are our top priority. We do what it takes to keep the lights on and help our members save energy. Adams Electric Cooperative: Owned by Those We Serve. To learn more, visit adamsec.coop.
