BUSINESS BRIEFS

The bolded businesses in Business Briefs are Chamber members. Submit news to news@gettysburg-chamber.org by the second Tuesday of each month for inclusion in the following month's publication.

The Central Penn Business Journal introduced the Power 100 List, recognizing individuals who inspire innovation, spark economic growth and make decisions in their positions to shape the communities and influence quality of life. Stock and Leader's Partner, Ronald L. Hershner was one of the nominees. While serving as Managing Partner for the last ten years, Hershner worked tirelessly to inspire and motivate his colleagues to achieve their best when assisting the firm's clients and the community. Recently Hershner finished his role as Managing Partner, returning to full-time practice.

Debra Westmoreland was recently welcomed to the board of directors, to serve a three-year term, of the Adams County Arts Council. Originally from the Reading, PA area, Westmoreland received a B.S. in Design and Merchandising from Drexel University and a B.F.A. in Interior Architecture at the New York School of Interior Design. She was a gallery assistant at the Frank J. Miele Contemporary American Folk-Art Gallery in New York, NY. After working in the design field for several years she graduated with an M.A. in Museum Professions from Seton Hall University in South Orange, NJ. Since relocating to Gettysburg in 2011, she has been active in the Adams County Arts Council as a staff member and instructor of adult and youth classes and has chaired the annual Juried Art Exhibit.

The Partners of Stock and Leader announced that Steven M. Hovis has been unanimously elected as the firm's next Managing Partner. Hovis, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania School of Law and Syracuse University, joined the firm in 1990 and currently serves on the firm's Management Committee. He practices public finance, municipal law, employment law, and real estate development. Steve is a recognized member of the Pennsylvania Association of Bond Lawyers and the National Association of Bond Lawyers.

Adams County Historical Society (ACHS) is pleased to announce the formalization of a key partnership with Gettysburg Black History Museum, Inc. (GBHM), who like ACHS holds precious archival materials that are key to understanding the story of Gettysburg and Adams County. This new partnership ensures that the historic collections of both organizations are properly cared for in a secure, environmentally-regulated archives where visiting researchers can access many of these incredible resources for the very first time! Set to coincide with the grand opening of the new ACHS headquarters in 2022, they will collaborate on exhibits throughout the new museum space, including an inaugural exhibit - Black Voices of Adams County - that will be free and open to the public.

The ponds at Knouse Foods Cooperative, Inc. in Orrtanna feature a new ADA wheelchair accessible fishing platform for public use. The sidewalk and platform have been provided by generous local support, with design assistance from the PA Fish & Boat Commission, in coordination with the Mummasburg Sportsmen's Club. A local sportsman, wishing to remain anonymous, provided the financial support for the project and worked with Knouse Foods' Environmental Staff members and factory personnel to develop and complete the project. Scott Briggs, Knouse Foods' VP of Human Resources and Communications stated "Knouse Foods is pleased and privileged to host the site for the benefit of the community."

Inspired by the life and career of General and 34th President of the United States, Dwight D. Eisenhower, a new Eisenhower Exhibit Spotlight is open in the Museum Lobby at the Gettysburg National Military Park Museum & Visitor Center. The introductory exhibition, included with a ticket to the Film, Cyclorama & Museum Experience or the Museum Experience, is made possible thanks to the generosity of the Pritzker Military Foundation, on behalf of the Pritzker Military Museum & Library. The exhibit explores the history of Eisenhower's life as a soldier, General, President and citizen, as well as a nod to Eisenhower's leadership and features historic information and photos, several artifacts and a panel including a historic photo background of Eisenhower on the Gettysburg battlefield.

Tricia (Trish) Heisey, Business Development and Financial Education Representative, for Belco Community Credit Union has been named co-chair of the Harrisburg Regional Chamber & CREDC's Education & Business Partnership (EBP) Committee, which supports and advances collaborative initiatives and relationships with community partners to connect education and business to promote lifelong learning. The Committee monitors local, state, and federal education and workforce legislative issues, as well as works with the Pennsylvania House and Senate Education Committees on various education initiatives.

SHAWN ECKENRODE, DIRECTOR

Adams County Technical Institute

What motivates you to jump out of bed every morning?

In the late 60s and early 70s, most counties in PA established jointly-operated area vocational-technical schools – now called area career and technical centers. School districts in Adams County attempted to do the same but the project was derailed before construction began. Although school districts individually established tech-ed courses through the years, Adams County students have not had the same access to rigorous career and technical education opportunities that their peers in other counties have had for 50 years. Due to the cost of equipment, specialty labs, and certification requirements for teachers, districts pooling resources and working together is the best way to provide these opportunities. ACTI teachers and staff jump out of bed every morning and are excited to come to work because we know that we are part of offering these opportunities to our kids. We are starting with seven programs but hope to grow to offer additional programs to be on-par with similar sized counties who have two-to-three times as many programs.

As someone doing business in Adams County, how does the chamber help you?

As a new school, establishing our initial business and industry partnerships is crucial to our success. The Chamber is our connecting point to hundreds of local businesses and resources to grow our partnerships.

As a business in Adams County, how do you give back to the local community?

Our mission of “helping students choose their path to a successful career” and vision of “meet(ing) the needs of the local workforce” is how we give back to the local community. Local business and industry representatives serve on our advisory committees to help us align our equipment purchases, facilities, curriculum, and safety to the needs of the local workforce. We complete the partnership by training students to be prepared for local, entry-level employment or be better prepared for postsecondary success. A strong partnership with the local community makes it more attractive for graduates to remain in Adams County and contribute to a prosperous economy for everyone. If you would like to be involved in this important partnership, contact us through our website at www.acti-pa.org.

BIZ BUZZ

Adams County now has an “area career and technical center” that provides career and technical education (CTE) opportunities to Adams County high school students. We offer a unique experience by combining classroom and hands-on learning, job shadowing, internships, cooperative education, friendships with students from other districts, learning from experts, extended time engaged in something that interests students, local, state, and national skill-related competitive events, and scholarships. There are seven programs that help students choose their path to hundreds of careers.

Our mission is “Helping students choose their path to a successful career.”

Our vision is to “continuously improve and expand career and technical education opportunities to meet the needs of the local workforce and the career goals of our students.”

ADVOCACY UPDATE

BUSINESSES: GOVERNMENT IN WAY OF ECONOMIC RECOVERY REPRESENTATIVE DAN MOUL (R-91)

The House Majority Policy Committee, of which I am a member, recently released the results of its COVID-19 Economic Recovery Business Survey. More than 900 PA businesses responded and nearly half of survey respondents cited the Wolf administration's COVID-19 mitigation orders and resulting financial hardship as the greatest challenges. Others blamed high business taxes and overregulation. About one-third of businesses indicated the best way to kickstart the economy is simply allowing them to be open for business again. Many who have been impacted, have complained that our Commonwealth's chief executive has had too much power. That is why the General Assembly voted to put questions on the May 18 Primary Election ballot that will give all PA citizens the power to limit the governor's authority in an emergency. Two of the proposed constitutional amendments would limit the length of emergency declarations and require more executive/legislative collaboration.

ADAMS COUNTY'S FIRST RECOVERY HOUSE TO OPEN COUNTY COMMISSIONER MARTY KARSTETER QUALLY

At long last Adams County and the RASE Project are ready for the open house of the Mercy House Recovery Center. We will host the public on Friday, May 14 at 45 W. High Street from 12-4 p.m. There will be a few speeches and tours, but mostly we want the community to see the facility and meet staff. All CDC safety guidelines will be adhered to during the event. A Facebook live video will be hosted for those who cannot attend in person. This project could not have been completed without the generosity of local charitable groups and individuals. We would also like to thank The Chamber for donating funds from their annual Prayer Breakfasts for this project. The Board of Commissioners could not be prouder and we hope to see you on May 14th.

AMBASSADOR SPOTLIGHT

ISAAC BUCHER, OWNER

Mister Ed's Elephant Museum & Candy Emporium

How long have you been a member of The Chamber of Gettysburg & Adams County?

Mister Ed's has been a member for 14 years and I have been active since joining the business in 2009.

Why did you join The Chamber of Gettysburg & Adams County?

I firmly believe that membership in the Chamber is a tremendous way to develop connections with other businesses. Those connections have helped my business grow in a variety of ways.

What committee do you currently volunteer with?

Board of Directors (Chair-Elect), Executive Committee, Ambassador Committee and Awards Committee

What do you enjoy most about volunteering?

I enjoy getting to meet new people and encouraging other businesses to get (or stay) involved with The Chamber.

What is your current occupation?

My wife, Nicole, and I own and operate Mister Ed's Elephant Museum & Candy Emporium.

What do you love most about the confectionery industry?

I love that we get to make people happy and feel like a kid again. Candy has that effect on people.

How do you define success?

I define success as working toward being better than you were yesterday. The only person in the race is yourself.

Who inspires you?

My wife Nicole inspires me the most. She has more talent in her little finger than I could ever wish to have.

If you could choose anyone as a mentor, who would you choose?

I had a pretty great mentor, Mister Ed. I had the privilege of his mentorship for more than a decade. I am very proud that I have the opportunity to take the best things he taught me, adding a dash of my own intuition, and continuing the legacy of having "The Sweetest Family Tradition in Adams County."

What's one thing - either industry-related or not - you learned in the last month?

I was recently reminded of the importance of self-care. Going on vacation has been more challenging this past year, but it is more important than ever. I always come home with a fresh perspective or new idea that helps me in business.

What's something about you (a fun fact) that not many people know?

At one point in my life, I was a competitive horseback rider. Now my tall boots are just a decoration in my house!

What's the last book you read?

The Kaiser's Web by Steve Berry. I love historical fiction books and this author in particular. I have even met him a couple of times.

If you had to eat one meal every day for the rest of your life, what would it be?

Hard Shell Crabs!

What's one thing you want to try but haven't gotten around to it?

I would like to one day see an elephant in its natural habitat.
