Join A Chamber Committee

The best way to take full advantage of your chamber membership is to get involved in a committee. Committees carry out the chamber's priorities and initiatives, from member services to fundraising. Each is made up of volunteer members from all sectors who bring a breadth and depth of expertise and experience that gives each committee a well-rounded knowledge base.

Working with a committee is a great way to network and meet people, be involved in an issue that interests you and learn and practice leadership skills in a non-competitive environment. You can grow your business by building relationships within the chamber and advertise your talents by demonstrating them through committee service. Plus you'll have a hand in improving your chamber and community. Review the opportunities below and contact Jennifer McCleaf at jenniferm@gettysburg-chamber.org or 717.334.8151 for details or to join.

Take Shape for Life: Helping Others Help Themselves to Optimal Health

Kelly and Rick McKee were among the millions of Americans caught in an obesogenic world that is plagued with fast food options, poor eating habits, high stress lifestyles, insufficient sleep and a "sick-care" health system. In this unhealthy environment, it is no wonder that nearly two-thirds of adult Americans are overweight and the health of future generations even less certain.

"As a registered nurse, I had all of the knowledge about how to be healthy, but no roadmap of how to get there," said Kelly. "I tried every diet and fitness program out there, but all the health roller coaster got me was lots of diet books and bigger and bigger clothes."

After being introduced to the Take Shape for Life program by her brother, Kelly and Rick began a weight loss and health improvement journey that would see them lose a combined 239 pounds.

Take Shape For Life offers a simple solution: high-quality, medically formulated meal replacements, free coaching and a Bio-Network of support that helps you lose weight and keep it off. The program is not a diet, but rather a multi-phased approach for healthy weight loss to attain and maintain optimal health.

"I can't express how exciting it was to get on the scale at the end of the first week and actually see the number drop and feel great," said Kelly. "Since joining this program, I've lost 125 pounds and am on a pathway to health that is permanent."

The McKees are now using their knowledge to benefit others. As your independent Certified Health Coaches, they are a resource to guide you through the program and provide continuing personal coaching. They will help you build the knowledge and skills you need to realize optimal health while helping you stay focused on your long-term goals.

"There is no greater satisfaction for us than when we are able to introduce this opportunity for optimal health to someone ready for change," said Rick, who has lost 114 pounds on the program. "We often learn they have reduced certain weight-related medications or they have experienced exciting new aspects to life once thought beyond their grasp. As visually dramatic as our weight loss has been, it plays second fiddle to the joy of experiencing unlimited non-scale victories."

Once you achieve your desired target weight, you will transition into the next phase where you put your healthy habits to work in supporting a lifetime of optimal health. Small actions such as building exercise into your day, healthy adjustments to your sleep routine and eating breakfast add up to make a significant impact on your overall health. Throughout this process, the McKees will serve as your mentors, educators, coaches and friends. Before you know it, friends, family, colleagues and your doctor will want to know your secret to looking and feeling so terrific.

"We're health coaches to pay it forward to others who are searching for a life-long solution to being as healthy as they can be. Life is a journey, not a destination -- health should be too."
