Gettysburg Adams Chamber Seeks Nominations for Business Excellence Awards

Gettysburg, Pa. – The Gettysburg Adams Chamber of Commerce, Adams County's oldest and largest business organization, is seeking nominations of its member businesses for several new prestigious awards. Nominations are due March 29.

Members may nominate any qualifying business, including their own, for Business Excellence Awards using a simplified application. Eligible categories include: Adams County Educator of the Year, Environmental Stewardship, Family-Owned Business, Nonprofit of the Year and Small Business Person of the Year.

The awards are presented during the chamber's Awards Breakfast from 7-9 a.m. on Wednesday, May 16, at Cross Keys Village – The Brethren Home Community.

The chamber's Awards Committee will review and evaluate all nominations based upon the criteria provided by the nominated business/organization. Selection will be based on the brief written narrative provided by the nominator and supporting evidence provided by the nominee. Nominations submitted are not required to provide or reveal proprietary information, though all information received will be treated as confidential.

For nomination forms, visit www.gettysburg-chamber.org and click on "News & Programs" then "Nomination Forms."
